Dear [Employer],

I am currently looking for an animator internship in the industry and I've developed an interest in your company. Having recently completed my studies in Animation Arts at UAL: London College of Communication, I am eager to apply my skills and contribute to your team.

During my education, I gained proficiency in software such as Toon Boom Harmony 22 Premium and the Adobe Creative Suite alongside team building skills such as effective communication and organisation to ensure timely delivery of work. I believe in maintaining a healthy work-life balance while fostering clear communication with colleagues to facilitate smooth project progression.

With my specialities, I could bring these characteristics to your team:

Storyboard/Animatic Artist - In various solo and collaborative projects, I have always displayed my storyboards to be clear and understandable to follow, complete with notes and arrows to direct the character movement and camera shots. While I often start with traditional sketching in my sketchbook, I'm more willing to experiment with software such as Storyboard Pro 22. I work closely alongside the scriptwriters as I'm storyboarding, to identify additional shots that enhance the narrative without disturbing the flow. These approaches have proven to be benefactors in creating polished animatics, where I assist with refining fixes and the pacing of each scene.

Concept Artist - Much like storyboarding, I begin the process with the traditional route first before transferring my work into a software. With software experience in Adobe Photoshop and Procreate, I deliver clean, animation-friendly designs tailored to the project's visual style. For character turnarounds, I provide detailed views from multiple angles, expression sheets depicting various moods, and colour palettes with appropriate shading and contrast. These approaches extend to my background and set designs, where I ensure simplicity and clarity, particularity in establishing shots.

I am excited about the prospect of collaborating with [your company] and contributing to your future projects. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experiences align with your internship program.

Sincerely,

Lorcan Fidler
